

Wildwood Rock Extreme Enduro opens entries for the 2015 event.

Wildwood Rock opens the door for riders to enter the 6th edition of the Australian Extreme Enduro. With riders waiting on the edge of their seats for entries to open, it has only given event owner Steve Braszell further time to make sure they are in for a tough day on the bike.

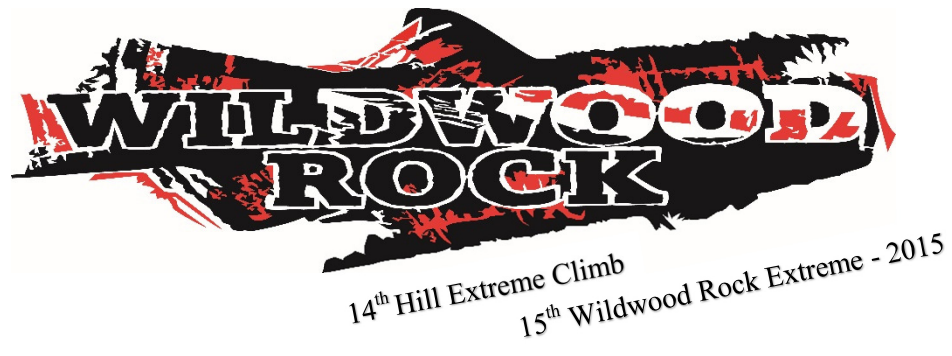

Taking on the phrase 'Are you ready to push yourself' it is clear that during the trip over to the 2015 Erzberg event, Steve is yet again going to raise the bar this year. The Beta Rock Garden that is known to be the last big test for riders each year is now going to see a Pro rider only line added. The riders will be able to show why they have each gained the title of 'Pro' at Wildwood to the many spectators that gather in this area each year. The action starts at 9am when riders go against the clock on the man-made prologue course to work out starting orders for the main event at 11am.

The event continues to show case Australia's toughest riders across all classes. With returning international names like Graham Jarvis #1 and Ben Hemingway #2 there is a 3rd English rider in Dan Hemingway. After seeing Brother Ben attend in 2014, he could not let Ben rain as the strongest Hemingway to hit Wildwood and plans to push hard to prove his point.

As the English riders make their way over it is very clear that we have Australia's best Hard Enduro riders waiting to show them as much of their back tyres as they can. Returning up and coming riders in Daniel 'chucky' Sanders #3 of the KTM Off-road team and Broc Grabham #4 of the Sherco Off-road team will defend and better their 2014 results. Having missed last year's event we will also see the return of Mitch Harper and Matthew Phillips who know just what it takes to bang bars at the front of the pack and then stand with the number one plates.

We have shuffled some classes and think it will prove for some great battles for 2015. The Trials and women's classes are back, clubman riders are being split up to see an over 35 year old clubman class. This has also seen the introduction of Expert and Expert over 35 for those that have progressed from the clubman or entry level rider classes in the past.

Further details will follow as to changes involved with the Saturday Extreme Hill climb.

With a cut off of only 100 riders able to enter for 2015, who will make it on the list and who will be left to watch on?
