

Wildwood Rock as of the 1st of July open entries for Extreme event and hill climb.

The 2014 Bulk Nutrients Wildwood Rock Extreme enduro is set to be the off-road motorcycle event of the year for both riders and spectators. With this year seeing the first time that Wildwood will hold a two day event, it is in true style that something new and unseen will be showcased at Wildwood. The Golden tyre Extreme Hill climb puts the challenge out to any level of rider that can ride a dirt bike and considers themselves to be a true hill climber. Entries also open 1st of July.

For those that are lucky enough to get into the limited 100 riders on the Sunday extreme event it is their chance to give it all they have to collect some of the largest prize money in the World. The track has been moulded over the past 4 year to make or break riders that are at the top of the ever growing sport of Extreme enduro. The Extreme event is open to Australian riders of 16 years and older who hold a senior Motorcycling Australia competition licence and international riders that are keen for the trip down under to take on the locals on their own soil. With the return of Graham Jarvis and Alfredo Gomez the Husqvarna factory extreme riders to the event for 2014 it has sparked the attention of other International riders in Ben Hemingway, Wade Young and Paul Bolton who are hoping to also make wildwood a visit in November.

Laying down the Australian rider that is ready to lead the international riders around the 12km course all day would be Factory KTM 300cc Matthew Phillips a rider that has only been out of the top 3 once in the past 4 years and the current E3 point's leader in the European World Championship. Mitch Harper although recovering from injuries prior to the 2013 extreme event was crowned Australia's most extreme rider with his 3rd place finish over all, Harper has since sustained further injury and is in recovery set to return in 2014 if fit. Other key names that make up the top 10 going into 2014 ready to claim the winning plates are, #4 Tim Coleman, #5 Chris Perry, #6 Tom Mason, #7 Robert Nowak, #8 Jack Gaynor, #9 Owen Lock, #10 Jesse Daley and wildcards like Daniel Sanders, Peter Boyle and Wayde Carter the battle will be on at the pointy end of the race.

Spectators will see some of the best skills on 2 wheels over the weekend and it is only 35minutes drive from Melbourne. For all details regarding where to watch from and who to look for can be found on the new event website in www.wildwoodrockextreme.com a true wealth of Extreme information.
